Summary of State News.

SPARTA.

Mr. Charles Eubanks died on last Thursday morning at this place, aged 35.——The Rev. Lovic Pierce, D. D., is now in Sparta, and has sufficiently recovered his health to be out upon the street again.——A series of prayer-meetings has been conducted by the Rev. J. H. Lowry, at the Methodist Church in Sparta, every morning during the past week. Much interest is being manifested.—Times and Planter.

EASTMAN.

On last Thursday evening Eastman was visited with one of the hardest rain storms that had ever fallen there. The storm lasted for about half an hour, and the rain went through the roofs of the best houses as if they were sieves. The next day the natives went visiting in boats.——The crop reports from the country about Eastman are generally good. Cotton will not make quite a full crop, but corn promises to do unusually well.—Times.

An ingenious Eastman man has, after much labor and patience, devised a patent vermin exterminator, or steam bug smasher. The machine consists of a furnace and boiler. The operator gets up about a hundred and fifty pounds pressure of steam in the boiler and then turns the blast full upon some unfortunate flea, bug, caterpillar, or other pest. The machine is warranted to blow that bug to a place from whence he will find it very impracticable to return. The first trial was made the other day, in the presence of a few friends, and at the room of a young man whose furniture was infested with a peculiar kind of blood-suckers, known as bed-bugs. The experiment was a success. At the first blow the bugs disappeared out of an open window, whence they were immediately followed by the bed, four chairs, the window frame, one cat, and two of the spectators. The balance of the furniture, together with most of the ceiling and a wretched dog performed a diabolical dance up and down the room, causing the operator and his friends to do some of the liveliest dodging on record. It took that machine just one hour to blow off, and the room presented about the appearance of an ordinary powder mill immediately after an explosion. The ingenious citizen left the next day for Alaska together with his patent generator. It only cost him $2,000 to pay for the damages.

BRUNSWICK.

The Seaport Appeal says: "Our Richard, who is also a Grubb, has gone. He left us this (Saturday) morning with his baggage consisting of a box of paper collars, marked 'Cuthbert.'"

Send Richard this way and we will try to lend him a set.

Here is another from that eminent editorial genius: "A four year old Brunswickian, in reply to the importunities of his mother to be a good boy, and he would be remembered by God, desired to know if he was a good boy would God let him shoot his big gun in Heaven on rainy days."

The Presbyterian congregation have employed the Rev. S. Henry Bell as their pastor for twelve months.——The special term of Glynn Superior Court, ordered by His Honor Judge Harris, for the trial of criminal cases, commenced on Monday last. Among the business transacted was the sentencing of Clarence Fort, the convicted murderer, to the penitentiary for life.—Seaport Appeal.

ROME.

Doctor Wills is lecturing the Romanites.——The editor of the Commercial left his rusty knife at a recent barbecue. He offers to the party returning it a highly laudatory puff for his honesty.——Judge Underwood installed the officers of Mechanic Lodge on Friday night, and made them a stirring speech. A banner was also presented to the Lodge by Mr. B. F. Poole.——On last Thursday afternoon the members of the church and congregation of the Rev. S. S. Axson, of Rome, presented their pastor's wife with a beautiful sewing machine.—Commercial.

MACON.

A new company has been organized among the colored people called the Central City Blues.——The Macon young gentlemen now go on excursions in ox-carts.——A meeting of the members of the Macon Bar was held, on Saturday, to take action on the death of Colonel W. K. deGraffenried. Judge C. W. Cole presided. Pall-bearers and a committee to draft suitable resolutions, commemorative of the deceased, were appointed, and the bar resolved to attend the funeral in a body.—Telegraph and Messenger.

ATHENS.

The proprietors of the Northeast Georgian announce that they will publish a daily paper during the continuance of the commencement exercises of the University.——An Athena lady lost a valuable diamond ring about a month ago. Shortly after the theft, a colored nurse in the family, disappeared. She was found the other day and the ring recovered.——The young ladies of Athens presented a beautiful banner to Evans' Lodge of Good Templars last Tuesday evening.——The annual session of the Grand Lodge of the Knights of Jericho was held at Odd Fellow's Hall in Athens on Wednesday, the 30th inst. Officers for the ensuing year were elected, and the Lodge adjourned to meet next in Atlanta.—Northeast Georgian.

Putting it Mildly.

A Minnesota correspondent tells the following: I have picked up a little story which I think too good a reproof for disturbers of the peace in churches to be lost. A presiding elder of the United Brethren Church was preaching in the same neighborhood, and was much annoyed by persons talking and laughing. He paused, looked at the disturbers, and said: "I am always afraid to reprove those who misbehave in church. In the early part of my ministry I made a great mistake. As I was preaching, a young man who sat just before me was laughing, talking, and made uncouth grimaces.

I paused and administered a severe rebuke. After the close of the service one of the official members came and said to me, "Brother ——, you made a great mistake. That young man whom you reproved is an idiot." Since then I have always been afraid to reprove those who misbehave in church, lest I should repeat that and reprove another idiot." During the rest of that service, at least, there was good order.

☞ The greatest retail oyster dealer in the world is dead. His name was Sidney Dorion, and for many years he had a stall in Fulton Market, New York. From being an oyster fisherman he rose to the dignity of a dealer, and his place in the market was so extensive as to require thirty men to pay proper attention to his customers. He made a specialty of serving up everything in first class style, and he earned a respectable fortune. When Thackeray was in this country he eat oysters at Dorion's and among his customers were Charles Dickens, Horace Greeley, Charles Sumner, Stephen Douglass, Charles Keen and Charles Mathews.

Tuesday Noon Dispatches.

GOTHAM.

Homicides--Racing Swindle--Sunken Steamer--Sunstrokes.

NEW YORK, August 5.—Sixteen prisoners are still in the tombs charged with homicides.

Numerous families have been reduced to penury by the recent Long Island fires, and one family forced to go to the poor house.

The police are after the concerters of a circular, signed Wright, Robinson & Co., claiming to have exclusive knowledge of what horses will win in the forthcoming foreign races, and offering to send it from their office, No. 599 Broadway, on receipt of ten dollars. No such firm was found there.

The English steamer Early, drawing 21 feet of water, struck a sunken rock at the foot of Nineteenth street, East River, yesterday, and stove a hole in her bow. She was brought into dock with great difficulty. The rock was unknown to mariners.

Three cases of sunstrokes yesterday.

TELEGRAPHIC SPARKLES.

BRIGHAM'S DESERTER.

SALT LAKE, August 5.—Ann Eliza Young's father and lawyers oppose compromise between her and the Prophet. It is asserted that Ann Eliza's first husband is alive and that she was never divorced.

DROWNED PRINTER.

BALTIMORE, August 5.—A. D. Berry, a printer who has been connected with the Gazette office for six years, went to bathe on Friday, as was his custom, and his family fear that he was drowned. He had $300 belonging to the Gazette Mutual Benefit Society, composed of the printers of the Gazette office, of which he was Treasurer.

INJURY TO WESTERN CROPS.

OMAHA, August 5.—The grasshoppers lighted at noon, Saturday, in the western part of the State. Corn and oats are gone. Wheat had been harvested. A fearful hail storm has occurred; stones lie two feet in some localities.

CHOLERA.

COLUMBUS, OHIO, August 5.—Several new cholera cases reported.

FOREIGN.

CUBA.

Heavy Spanish Defeat Reported.

NEW YORK, August 5.—Mail advices from Cuba state a very severe engagement had taken place at Barrancas, nine leagues from Manzanillo. The Spanish loss was severe. Thirty-seven of the wounded were taken to Manzanillo, and 30 more, severely wounded, were left at Veguita. The Spaniards were very reticent.

ENGLAND.

New Bishop of Worchester--Railway Accident.

LONDON, August 5.—The Bishop of England succeeds Dr. Wilberforce as Bishop.

In the Winchester railroad accident between Ashton and Manchester, eighteen were hurt and none killed.

SPAIN.

MADRID, August 5.—There is a large and popular demonstration in Laville in favor of the government.

Alabama News.

The Receivers of the Alabama and Chattanooga railroad have leased their road to the Alabama Central, from Meridian to York, giving the latter absolute control, reserving only the right to run their own trains.

The Montgomery Advertiser: A rather singular but well authenticated story comes to us from Baker county concerning the queer conduct of an alligator which inhabited a large pond, called the Goose Pond, near Lomax, on the line of the North and South Alabama Railroad. A gentleman was going to the saw-mill, with one or more logs drawn by oxen, when he was attack en route by one of the many alligators which it seems inhabit that curious spot. The gentleman, who was a plucky fellow, showed fight, and as an earnest of his hostile purpose threw a pole axe at his alligatorship, which the latter disposed of as a hungry man would dispose of a choice sandwich. In plain English, he swallowed it, and then as an earnest of what he proposed to do, went for his assailant, who, fearing that he might follow the axe if he remained, fled for dear life. The alligator then attacked the oxen, and had succeeded in killing one when the gentleman, having received reinforcements, returned to the assault. An immediate attack ensued, which resulted, after much effort, in the death of the amphibious brute. It measured seven feet in length, and was regarded as a fearful brute even in death. The goose pond in which this creature had his residence, and in which his interesting family yet reside, is on the premises of Colonel J. W. Hughes, of this city.

The Selma Times: The preliminary examination in the case of James Martin, charged with the murder of John Lewis Chapman, in this city, on Friday last, closed on yesterday. The examination took place at the court house of Dallas county, before the Hon. George H. Craig, Judge of the criminal court of Dallas county. The State was represented by Messrs. Morgan, Lapsley and Nelson, and Robert H. Sterrett, and the defendant by Judge Wm. M. Brooks and Messrs. Reid and May.

The testimony was very voluminous, some eight or ten witnesses having been examined. It was our intention to publish the entire testimony in the case in this issue of the Times, but we were unable to obtain the notes in time to write them out.

The case was ably conducted, both on the side of the prosecution and the defense. The court, after hearing the evidence and listening to the argument of counsel, decided that the evidence showed that the offence was of a lower degree than that set forth in the affidavit, and that it was bailable. The amount was fixed at $1,500. The defendant was still in jail yesterday evening, but it was understood that the bond would be made last night or this morning. Some of his friends from Mobile are here to aid him.

We have no comment to make on the legal aspect of the case, as it is in the courts for adjudication, but we cannot refrain from alluding to it as a sad result of the intemperate use of liquor. If the parties to the unfortunate affair had been entirely free from the influence of whisky, James Martin would not to-day be in the hands of the law, and John Lewis Chapman's widow would not have to mourn his untimely end.

☞ It is proposed to build at Long Branch, by private subscription, a "Presidential mansion," so be consecrated as a perpetual summer home for the Chief Magistrate." This is rather in advance of the third term suggestion.

It promotes the GROWTH, PRESERVES the COLOR, and increases the Vigor and BEAUTY of the HAIR.

OVER THIRTY YEARS AGO LYON'S KATHAIRON FOR THE HAIR was first placed in the market by Professor S. Thomas Lyon, a graduate of Princeton College. The name is derived from the Greek, "KATHRO," signifying to cleanse, purify, rejuvenate, or restore. The favor it has received, and the popularity it has obtained, is unprecedented and incredible. It increases the Growth and Beauty of the Hair. It is a delightful dressing. It eradicates Dandruff. It prevents the Hair from turning gray. It keeps the head cool, and gives to the hair a rich, soft, glossy appearance. It is the same in Quantity and Quality as it was over a Quarter of a Century Ago, and is sold by all Druggists and Country Stores at only Fifty Cents per Bottle.

THIS unrivalled Southern Remedy is warranted not to contain a single particle of MERCURY, or any injurious mineral substance, but is containing those Southern Roots and Herbs, which an all-wise Providence has placed in countries where Liver Diseases most prevail. It will Cure all Diseases caused by Derangement of the Liver.

The SYMPTOMS of Liver Complaint are a bitter or bad taste in the mouth; Pain in the Back, Sides or Joints, often mistaken for Rheumatism; Sour Stomach; Loss of Appetite; Bowels alternatively costive and lax; Headache; Loss of memory, with a painful sensation of having failed to do something which ought to have been done; Debility; Low Spirits, a thick yellow appearance of the skin and Eyes, a dry Cough often mistaken for Consumption. Sometimes many of these symptoms attend the disease, at others very few; but the Liver, the largest organ in the body, is generally the seat of the disease, and if not Regulated in time, great suffering, wretchedness and DEATH will ensue.

This Great Unfailing SPECIFIC will not be found the Least Unpleasant.

There never has been and there never can be but two great political parties in this country; the party of decentralization and the party of centralization. One has been known for 70 years as Democracy, the other has passed under half a dozen different names, but has never lost its identity.

The Boston Evening Traveller publishes the following: "A Washington correspondent telegraphs that Mr. Wilson is about to undergo a formidable operation, and it is thought he may survive." On the contrary, Mr. Wilson is much better than he has been at any time since his illness, and is steadily improving. No operation is or has been contemplated.

Connecticut having ordained by act of Legislature that a divorced wife shall be entitled to one-third of her former husband's estate on that individual's demise in cases where no part of it has been set apart for her maintenance during his lifetime, the arithmetico-legal puzzle now arises, what shall be done in the instance of a gentleman who, according to Connecticut custom, dies leaving three divorced ex-partners and one undivided widow?

Hereafter let no more be heard of the physical weakness of woman. On saturday, July 20, in Janesville, Wis., the Rev. There were two or three reverend gentlemen who helped a little in the way of reading the hymns and making the prayers, but Mrs. Van Cott did all the heavy work. Her way of reading the first chapter of Genesis is spoken of by the local newspapers as having been "fresh and beautiful."

Parks.

A New York paper, in combatting the idea of large parks really gives a curious and clinching argument in favor of them. It alludes to the New York Central Park, which was started for the benefit of the poor people. The park, it says, has enhanced property so much in value around it that only the wealthy can enjoy it. Surely this is a very strong argument in favor of the policy of a city inaugurating large, fine parks as a city benefit.

Atlanta needs a park more than anything else. Parks and squares are the lungs of a city, her breathing organs. Yet with all her progress and enterprise the Gate City takes no step in the direction of making a park.

Depreciated Currency.

The New York Bulletin has an exceedingly sensible article on the demoralizing tendency of a depreciated currency. It contends that an irredeemable and fluctuating currency poisons the morals of a community. Men seek to pay their debts in depreciated money which they speculate to depreciate.

The law has unfortunately helped this state of things by sanctioning it. All sorts of achievements that have altered the apparent value of money have been considered legitimate to make money.

There seems to be no help for this corrupting state of things at present.

California Cotton Culture.

Major Strong, who is a practical planter on Mariposa Creek, furnishes the San Joaquin Valley Argus with a comprehensive statement of the crop throughout the State. It relates more particularly, however, to the growing crop in Merced, Mariposa, Fresno and Kern counties.

The crops on the Merced River, he says, would have yielded a bale an acre if the "bugs" had not damaged them. This bug is more destructive of cotton plants than the Clinch-bug is of young grain; but he thinks that the depredations of the insect are mainly due to injudicious irrigation. He believes that larger crops can be grown on the merced without irregation than with it.

The crops on Mariposa Creek are more promising than at this season of last year, when the average yield was 250 pounds of ginned cotton an acre. The first blooms on the Mariposa opened on June 23rd, at Wilcox's place. Mr. Wilcox has a fine crop of 150 acres, which is in some respects the most remarkable crop ever produced in the United States, and perhaps in the world. The entire work, except hoeing, has been performed by two men. The hoeing cost $140, and was performed by Chinamen. Much of it was thinned to a stand at the rate of two and a half acres per man per day, and "laid by" in May. H. E. McClure has a crop of 45 acres—the best crop on Mariposa creek—all the work upon which he has performed himself, except the hoeing, which was done by Chinamen at a cost of $400. Turner & Helm have a crop of 50 acres on the foot hills, which is equally remarkable for the economy with which it has been

The crop of Sampson Brothers, at the forks of the Mariposa, comprises 80 acres, another two having been performed the entire work except hoeing. The largest crop on Mariposa Creek belongs to Major Strong, comprising 300 acres, which he thinks will give an average yield of 350 pounds of ginned cotton an acre. The planting was finished on the 10th of May. Much of it had to be replanted on account of the vast quantity of swamp grass turned under. The replanting occupied nearly the whole of May. On the 7th of July, several bolls in the open field each counted 80 to 100 bolls, blooms and squares—the stalks not being over thirty inches high. The best cotton will attain to five or six feet. Major Strong expects 1,000 pounds of seed cotton an acre from the same ground next year.

Mr. Augustus Wiehe, of San Francisco, has forty acres in Fresno county. He is endeavoring to test by the present crop the adaptability of the climate and soil of California to produce Sea Island cotton. At the latest accounts his crop was not promising; but the plants are growing rapidly, and there is yet time for them to mature a full crop.

Around Centerville the grasshoppers threaten to destroy the entire crop of between 400 and 500 acres. At Bakersfield and various other localities in the Sacramento valley, profitable results are confidently predicted.

From these facts it is claimed by Major Strong that the cotton industry of the State has taken strong root; that its revival has been attended with results the most remarkable in the history of cotton production. The Major is undoubtedly an enthusiast on the subject; but there is no telling what the soil of this wonderful State may not bring forth.

Groesbeck.

Groesbeck is generally getting Democratic fits. While there is a universal concession of pure purpose to him, the party judgment is against him. The Democratic papers are speaking out boldly against his surrender and abandonment policy. And we are pleased to see this resolute spirit to adhere to the Democratic organization.

We wish we had the space to quote some of the emphatic and intelligent utterances of dissent from Groesbeck, but we must be content with stating that the overwhelming mass of Democratic journals are firmly pronounced against any dissolution of the old party organization.

President MacMahon.

It is told of Marshal MacMahon, President of France, that when Captain, and Aide-de-Camp to the General in command at Compiegne, in the reign of the citizen king, Louis Philippe, he was charged with the delivery of an important command to a field officer; that taking a bee-line for his destination, he came upon a dip in the plain, through which a brigade of infantry was marching: that he had no time to lose, and showing his charger the ground, he retreated to a short distance, when, coming with a rush, he cleared the astonished infantry with such a leap as no other officer would have attempted.

Macon Liberality to Education.

To her eternal honor, be it said, that the city of Macon leads the cities of the South in her practical encouragement of the great cause of education. It is a proud plume in her cap, to be proudly worn. No niggard hand is hers in fostering this transcendant instrument of civilization. But she has given, and continues to give, whenever asked, ever munificently.

Her noble liberality in donating, we believe, two hundred thousand dollars to secure the location of Mercer University in her borders, is a conspicuous instance in point. While the location of that college was hanging in the balance, a tempting prize with many eager competitors, Macon did not even heed the rivalry, but with her large-hearted munificence, she bid so high that all other offers seemed petty in contrast. By her bold, ready generosity, she made the success inevitable, and all other rivalry was puerile child's play in comparison.

Our interesting special dispatch from Macon last night, given in this morning's paper, shows that in the same splendid spirit of munificence, her City Council has voted two large amounts of money to foster two educational institutions of different denominations—the Wesleyan Female College, that unsurpassed female institute, and the Catholic Orphans' Home.

All honor do we say to Macon for her noble appreciation of education, as evinced in this donation of her wealth to its encouragement.

So Many Fires.

The telegraphic reader must have been struck with the general occurrence of fires recently. In every section of the country large disastrous conflagrations are happening.

What does it mean? There must be incendiary work. How far the temptation of insurance leads to burnings can never be known.

Our dispatches last night tell of a most novel and horrible oil fire on Long Island. The details are graphically given and present a vivid picture of lurid terror.

The ghastliest feature reported is the probable loss of life.

That Ocean Balloon Voyage.

The managers of the Graphic have invited a few leading gentlemen to cross the Atlantic in the Wise Balloon. Beast Butler, Mr. Dana, of the New York Sun, Geo. W. Childs, of the Philadelphia Ledger, and Gen. Geo. B. McClellan, all decline the tempting invitation; and all express great interest in the enterprise.

Mr. Lincoln on Louisiana Affairs.

Mr. Lincoln's views of what was right in Louisiana were somewhat different from the views now held at Washington. The following letter, written by him in 1864, expressed his opinions:

"EXECUTIVE MANSION, }
"WASHINGTON, Nov. 21, 1864. }

DEAR SIR: Dr. Kennedy, bearer of this, has some apprehension that Federal officers, not citizens of Louisiana, may be set up as candidates for Congress in that State. In my view there could be no possible object in such an election. We do not particularly need members of Congress from there to enable us to get along with legislation here. What we do want is the conclusive evidence that respectable citizens of Louisiana are willing to be members of Congress and to swear to support the Constitution, and that other respectable citizens are willing to vote for them and send them. To send a parcel of northern men here as representatives, elected, as would be understood, (and perhaps really so,) at the point of the bayonet, would be disgraceful and dangerous; and were I a member of Congress here, I would vote against admitting any such man to a seat.

"Yours, very truly,
"ABRAHAM LINCOLN.

THE GRANGERS

Details of Their Practical Working in Iowa.

Something Practical and Remarkable that has Been Done in Iowa.

Correspondent N. Y. World]

DAVENPORT, IA., July 24.—The following facts and statistics, as to the working of the grangers and the results which they are accomplishing by co-operation will be of interest, and are derived from official sources:

The State headquarters are at Des Moines, where resides the Secretary, Mr. W. Duane Wilson, and the Treasurer, Mr. M. L. Devin. There are 1,750 granges in Iowa, of which fully 1,000 have been established this year; the total membership is 90,000, and the voting strength from 65,000 to 70,000.

Apart from political consideration the farmers have derived much benefit socially from the granges. Their discussions and literary entertainments do much towards making their home-life pleasanter, and it is estimated that the result thus far has been an increase of at least one-quarter in the number of papers taken and books read by members.

The principle of co-operation has been applied extensively to all matters of business affecting the farmer, especially in the purchase of agricultural implements, sewing machines, &c., the profits upon which have always been large, and accrued invariably to the local agent. When the grangers proposed to deal directly with the manufacturers, the latter refused to sell them any goods whatever unless the orders came through the local agents at full prices. But the former held out and refused absolutely to purchase any goods of such firms, and the manufacturers yielded. Now the grangers have a perfect organization for purposes of trade, comprising a general State agent, agencies for shipment on each of the railroads, purchasing agents in each county, agents for the sale of stock and produce in each county, and general purchasing and selling agents at Chicago. The grangers send to the purchasing agents lists of whatever they require—groceries, dry goods, sewing machines, cultivators, boots, pianos, anything—and he buys for them, lumping all the orders for one class of goods, buying them at wholesale prices and shipping them by the car load. The result has been a saving to the farmers of Iowa, since the system was inaugurated in January last, of a sum variously estimated at from $1,000,000 to $2,000,000. In short, it pays every member of the grange $100 a year to belong to it, and large families find their expenses reduced by $300 or $400 annually.

As instances of the saving to the farmers I append a list of the various articles purchased, and special prices:

Sewing-machines	$40 to $65	$30 to $39
Superior machines	70 to 95	42 to 57
Organs	175 to 400	135 to 300
Scales	80 to 100	40 to 50
Wagons	100 to 160	80 to 125
Corn-shellers	335 to 500	275 to 425
Cultivators	35 to 45	22 to 30
Harrows	12 to 16	9 to 12
Field-rollers	48 to 67	36 to 43
Ploughs and cultivators	150 to 225	50 to 100
Mowers	110 to 120	85 to 9.
Fann'ng-mills	30 to 35	21 to 24
Boilers	25 to 50	15 to 35

In brief, from 25 to 30 per cent. is saved to the farmers on everything that they buy. The manufacturers, too, seem satisfied with the system, as it reduces the expenses of their business and gives them cash. The farmers have not yet "got into the hang of it," most of them having been accustomed to credit accounts, and being short of ready money. So patent, however, are the advantages of "cash and co-operation" that by next year we shall likely see the whole business of rural Iowa transacted by a single agent.

In one important respect the farmers are gainers by the system of co-operation. Should any dealer undertake to palm off inferior articles upon the purchasing agent, or make representations which are not borne out, the various local agents are notified by circular, and his business is over forever, so far as the whole rural population of Iowa is concerned. Thus the dealers have every incentive to deal honestly with the grangers and secure their immense and easily-handled orders, and the farmers find themselves getting better goods than ever before at lower prices.

The effect upon the home business of the State has been what might have been expected. There have been a number of small concerns obliged to close up, which was no great loss, because the business was suffering from over-trading and over-competition. The larger and more solid dealers, relieved from this opposition, are enabled to do business on a more rational and remunerative basis, and as it is the policy of the grangers to encourage home dealers when the goods can be obtained at nearly the same price as in Chicago, freight and time being considered, no small amount of business is done with merchants at Des Moines, Davenport and Dubuque.

The railroads, by way of retaliation on the grangers, refuse to give them the special rates accorded to large shippers, but otherwise treat them courteously. A Des Moines correspondent quotes an instance where a car load of reapers had been left by accident at a side-station, while the grangers to whom they were consigned were waiting for them to begin harvesting. The superintendent, on hearing the facts in the case, ordered a special engine out to bring up the car, and sent the grangers home rejoicing.

The principle of co-operation as applied to sales of stock and produce has not yet come into such general adoption as to justify any criticism. In several counties, however, the farmers are doing away with the middlemen, who have been in the habit of scouring the country to pick up cattle and hogs in small lots and ship them in droves to Chicago. Now the local agent makes up a drove and ships it to the packer, and the middleman's profits are shared by the farmers. The practice of contracting in advance with the agents for the whole crop or stock of their granges has come into vogue, and is popular with the packers.

Despite this, the grangers do not feel either discouraged or annoyed by the action of the railroads. They are certain to control the Legislature at its next session, and then will have it in their power to balance accounts with the railroads. At the same time it is a hopeful sign that the grangers do not manifest any desire for vindictive legislation, nor any inclination for such a complicated and useless railroad act as has been passed in Illinois. A fair, simple, and constitutional act is what they desire, and will undoubtedly pass.

Tennessee News.

Nine carriers distributed ninety thousand letters at Nashville during the month of July.

An affray occurred at a barbecue in Madison county last week, in which Cas Cock was shot by Henry Wood in the abdomen.

The Memphis Ledger of August 1st says: "Not a delegate from Memphis put in an appearance at the new State convention at Jackson. The movement has but few supporters in this city. Old Tennessee as it is is good enough for the average Memphian or any other man."

A man was murdered on Mr. James Reid's plantation, in Madison county, some ten days ago, and a large nubmer of negroes, probably fifty, are implicated. Twenty-four have been committed to the Jackson jail.

Kingston lately had a frail woman whose course greatly displeased the citizens, and they clubbed together and presented her a fitting suit of tar and feathers. She didn't like the cut of the overskirt and left the place.

Last week's Falcon, published at Somerville, records the following: "Last Monday week a Mr. Bobbett, of this county, killed a snake by cutting its head off. Immediately after this operation young snakes commenced crawling out of the decapitated body, until seventy-one made their appearance. Fayette now defies competition in the snake line."

The Lexington Reporter of Thursday says: "Last Monday night, about 8½ o'clock, three of the prisoners confined in jail at this place made their escape. Mr. Stewart, the jailer, was away from home, but his brother-in-law, Billy Threadgill, was left in charge; and before he was there many minutes the prisoners came down stairs each one armed with a brick. Billy halted them, and they stopped immediately; but seeing that he was unarmed they soon laid hold of him, and passed on. After they were out he found a gun and tried to fire on them, but it would not go off, so they made good their escape. The birds who escaped were Monroe Barker, Sipes and Plunk. Riley Baker, another prisoner in the same cell, could have escaped

Liberality of the Macon City Council.

Donations to Colleges and Schools.

Constitution's Special from Macon.

MACON, August 5, 1873.

A meeting of the City Council of Macon was held to night, when the proceedings were illuminated by signal liberality and public spirit.

PRESENT.

Mayor Huff being absent Alderman J. W. Burke acted as Mayor pro tem., and the following gentlemen participated, viz: Aldermen Cornell, Dempsey, Ellis, Deitz, C. Burke, V. Kahn, Lightfoot, and the Chief of Police, Mr. Carnes.

LIBERAL DONATIONS.

The action was most important. The Council confirmed its public spirited and generous resolution of the last meeting donating the large sum of to put in proper repair the buildings of the Wesleyan Female College, that crowning glory of Macon achievement.

The Council, in the same noble liberality and creditable appreciation of the value of education, voted the further munificent sum of

TWO THOUSAND FIVE HUNDRED DOLLARS

to the Sisters of Mercy for the benefit of the Orphans' School.

It will thus be seen how Macon, rising above all sectarian prejudices and profoundly appreciating the great power of education, fosters all educational enterprises in her midst, setting an example worthy of wide imitation.

CAIRO, August 5.—Breese, the alleged fratricide, was captured, after a shot in the shoulder from the Sheriff's posse.

BIG INJUN ELECTION.

ST. LOUIS, August 5.—An election was held yesterday in the Cherokee Nation for members to the National Council and delegates to the Grand Council at Ocmulgee, which meets the first Monday in December next.

The interest of the election rests mainly upon the issues which have sprung up in the nation during the past few years, relative to the establishment of a territorial government for the Indian Territory, and allottment and in severalty. The progressive party believe they have carried the election, but owing to the remoteness of some of the voting precincts and the absence of telegraph, the result cannot be ascertained for some days. The new Council of Cherokees will vote to ratify or reject the constitution which was framed by the Grand Council, at Ockmulgee, in 1870, and upon this issue the campaign was conducted.

NEGRO LYNCHERS.

MEMPHIS, August 5.—Twenty negroes were arrested here charged with lynching W. H. Wyatt. All were released on five hundred dollars bail but three. The charge against Wyatt was disproved by the alleged victims.

DROWNED.

Two sons of David Kendall, of Henry county, aged 18 and 22 were drowned in West Lake while bathing. The third brother in attempting to save the others narrowly escaped.

REVENUE OFFICER ACQUITTED.

PORTLAND, ME., August 5.—Barnabas M. Roberts, Collector at Belfast, was tried today before Wm. H. Clifford, United States Commissioner, on the charge of violating the law prohibiting officers of revenue from engaging in trade, on the ground, first, that a civil and not a criminal action should be brought to recover penalty; and second, that the evidence did not establish anything against him.

YELLOW FEVER IN NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, August 5.—The captain and a part of the crew of the schooner Nellie J. Dinsmore died, in quarantine, of the yellow fever. The captain's wife died of the same disease on the voyage from Havana.

EMIGRANTS.

Over one thousand emigrants arrived yesterday.

ARRIVALS.

CHARLESTON, August 5.—Arrived: Falcon, Charlcaton, Belle Isle, Foam, and F. G. Russell.

THE WEATHER.

Lower Temperature, Partly Cloudy, with Rains, in Georgia.

WASHINGTON, August 5.—For the Northwest and upper lakes, and thence to Southern Indiana and Missouri, falling barometer, warmer and cloudy weather, with severe local storms near the lakes. For the lower lakes, and thence to the Ohio Valley, generally clear, cool weather and northeasterly winds, followed on to-morrow afternoon by cloudy weather, rain, and fresh southwesterly winds on the latter. For the New England and the Middle States, higher temperature, generally clear weather and southeasterly winds. For Tennessee and the Gulf and South Atlantic States, northeasterly and southeasterly winds lower temperature, and partly cloudy weather, with rains

Canada.

The Premier Rumored to Have Committed Suicide.

BOSTON, August 5.—A special dispatch from Canada says a rumor was current, on Sunday and to-day, that Sir John A. MacDonald had attempted suicide. The Government organs, however, deny the story. It is certain, however, that the Premier has been in a low state.

THE NATIONAL A. B. C's.

Convention of the National Educational Association.

Nearly Every State Represented—1,000 Delegates.

ELMIRA, August 5.—The National Educational Association met this morning in this city. About one thousand delegates and members were present, and nearly every State in the Union was represented.

The Association was welcomed to the city by the Mayor in a brief speech, and the President of the Board of Education, B. H. Northup, responded in a very graceful manner.

The question then to be discussed was very handsomely introduced by Hon. Edwin Shippen, of Philadelphia, viz: Ought the Chinese and Japanese indemnities to be refunded unconditionally, or be devoted to specific educational purposes.

He was followed by Dr. Coe, of New Jersey, who made a very strong speech. His point was that the government should be careful lest the fund should fall into the hands of the reactionary party.

The following named gentlemen took part in the discussion: Hon. F. Hall, of this city; John Hancock, of Ohio; Professor Charles Hammond, of Massachusetts; Professor A. Horton, of New Jersey; Professor W. A. Wegewood, of Washington, and the Vice Chancellor of the new University in that city. The subject under discussion was laid on the table to come up under resolutions.

MORE FLAMES.

Horrible Oil Conflagration on Long Island and Rumors of Wholesale Death.

Still Raging.

NEW YORK, August 5.—Five tank boats, filled with oil, moored to the dock of Rockafeller's Oil Works, Hunter's Point, Long Island, exploded this evening and set fire to the barrels and tanks of oil in the yard. The fire spread almost instantaneously and enveloped some three squares, occupied by the oil works of various parties.

There was heavy lightning and wind, and a volume of smoke ascended to an immense height and of a density such as was never before seen here, covering Brooklyn completely from the sun light and extending for miles over the bay and out to sea.

Firemen who were promptly on hand were unable to approach the yards or docks, owing to the intense heat and suffocating smoke.

Pratt's Oil Works, the Long Island City Oil Works, Lowenstein's varnish factory and other oil works were consumed, and several buildings in the vicinity.

Capt Mercers, of one of the tank boats, is reported killed by explosion. A large number of boatmen jumped into the water and escaped roasting alive.

The fire burned from 3 o'clock all afternoon and is still burning to-night.

Various rumors of large loss of lime are current.

JOURNALISM.

Some of its Many Felicities.

The Brimont-Bennett Suit.

A Parisian writer to a London journal thus sums up a recent extraordinary French libel suit, whereof American readers know but little, though American characters were largely concerned in it: "Miss Peniman was, about 1865, a young American lady, celebrated in Paris for her fortune, intelligence and beauty. She had many admirers, but was very difficult in her choice of a husband.

At last M. de Brimont, a gentleman of Champagne, well known in Parisian high life, distanced his rivals and obtained her hand. In every respect he made a fortunate match, marrying a charming woman and a rich heiress. Madame de Brimont died a year after, leaving a daughter. The husband was without fortune he was accustomed to expensive living. He frequented the clubs, had horses and carriages, and did all that unoccupied classes are accustomed to do in modern days.

After his wife died he was obliged to recourse to the purse of his father-in-law. The latter, practical like all Americans, got annoyed at the idea of having to support a son-in-law who lived an idle life, and refused to give anything. M. de Brimont, on the strength of Article 207 of the Civil Code, which obliges parents to support their sons-in-law in case of want, summoned Mr. Peniman before the tribunals, and demanded a pension. That proceeding was not of a nature to calm the ill humor of the father-in-law, and he disdained to put in an appearance.

The court showed itself severe towards him, condemning him, by default, to allow M. de Brimont an annual sum of 18,000 francs, of which 12,000 francs are to be devoted to the care and maintainance of the child. That sentence annoyed Mr. Peniman still more. He sold all he possessed in Paris and left for New York. M. de Brimont, armed with the judgment which had condemned his father-in-law, went to New York to ask the American tribunals to render executory what had been ordered in France.

The court there refused, and stated its decision in somewhat severe terms, adding remarks not very complimentary to M. de Brimont. The newspapers of that city published those observations with a commentary. The editor of the American Register, a journal published in Paris, having found in the New York Herald one of those articles, reproduced it, quoting the source from which he had taken it. M. de Brimont, not being able to reach the New York papers, determined to make the American Register pay for the others, and so commenced an action for defamation before the Correctional Tribunal. M. Kremer, the gerant of that journal, being absent from Paris at the moment, did not appear, and was condemned to one month's imprisonment, 1,000 francs fine, and 20,000 francs damages. He appealed; but before the case came on for hearing the plaintiff discovered that Mr. James Gordon Bennett, proprietor of the New York Herald, CAPTURED.—Ware, who escaped from DeKalb county jail, a few weeks ago, was captured in Newton county, on Monday, and brought back to DeKalb county and lodged in jail. He was brought back by Messrs. Flowers and Carroll.

ACCIDENT.—Joseph Backus got his left ankle seriously mashed and torn by being caught in the elevator of Lewis' Cracker factory, on Broad street this morning. Dr. W. S. Armstrong was called to see him and rendered such surgical aid was necessary at the moment. It is hoped that amputation can be avoided.

REAL ESTATE SALES.—Our energetic real estate agent, George W. Adair, yesterday sold the Hatcher property. This is a valuable tract of land located about seven miles from town, and consists of about one hundred and ninety odd acres. It was sold at a very fair price to both seller and buyer, bringing a little above $10 per acre.

THE IVEY HABEAS CORPUS CASE.—Yesterday was set for the hearing of a writ of habeas corpus, sued out by W. F. Ivey, at present confined in Fulton county jail, charged with the murder of a penitentiary convict. By agreement among the attorneys the service of a formal writ was waived by the State, and Judge Hopkins was presented with a copy of the evidence as taken down at the commitment trial. His Honor will examine this, and, it is understood, will deliver his opinion, as to whether or not he will admit Ivey to bail, on Thursday next.

THE GATE CITY SHOOTING CLUB.—Will give a shooting match, to take place at the Fair Grounds, on next Thursday afternoon at half-past three o'clock. The ladies are specially invited to be present. Book Notices.

Mad It Be. A German Romance. By CARL DETLEF. Published by J. B. Lippincott & Co., Philadelphia. Price, 75 cents.

This is one of the cheap publications of the celebrated publishing house of Lippincott. It is a translation of a German novel of very considerable merit, and interesting novelty of treatment. The typography of the volume is very fine. The book is illustrated, though only a paper-bound edition.

The Mystery of Holly Tavern. A story of Nine Travellers. By LAUTHION COLLIN, Philadelphia. J. B. Lippincott & Co. Price forty cents.

This is another cheap and meritorious publication by the same house. The same excellencies of execution mark the volumes. The story is an ingenious and rather peculiar one, graphically written and worked up with very considerable dramatic power.

Phillips & Crew have these books, or will order them.

THE SHERIFF'S SALES.—Yesterday being the first Tuesday in the month, was the regular sale day of the Sheriff of Fulton county. Quite a crowd attended to-day, and the bids were lively.

The following property was sold by Sheriff A. M. Parkerson:

A lot of land, the property of John Ennis, to S. B. Hoyt, for $500.

Lot of H. & R. O'Shields, to J. N. Smith, for $325

Lot of O. P. Woodruff, to Turner Goldsmith, for $50.

Lot of James T. Lewis, to T. M. Clark, for $1,400.

Lot of George Latham, to Albert Thrasher, for $500.

Lot of Henry P. Farrow, to Mrs. C. S. Farrow, for $24 27.

Lot of E. R. Sasseen, to Albert Thrasher, for $110.

THE SHERIFF'S TAX SALES.

Deputy Sheriff Wells sold also about five thousand dollars worth of city property to satisfy numerous State and county tax fi fas. He also sold the H. I. Kimball House to satisfy a State and county tax fi fa, issued by S. R. Hoyle, T. C., vs. H. I. Kimball for his tax for the year of 1874. It was bought for tax and costs amounting to $4,000 by B. H. Hill for Joseph Thompson, Sr., and G. W. Adair.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

Annual Meeting—Election of Officers—Change of Time of Meeting—Air-Line Railroad Celebration.

The annual meeting of the Chamber of Commerce was held last night at their Hall in the Republic Block.

Secretary Edwards submitted his annual report, showing, after paying all arrears and expenses, a balance in the treasury of $18 45. Referred to Finance Committee.

THE ANNUAL ELECTION OF OFFICERS came on next, and the following result:

Hon. A. Crane was re-elected President without opposition.

Vice Presidents—W. J. Garrott, John Stephens, A. C. Wyley, R. P. Chamberlain, J. B. Peck, A. Leyden.

President Crane returned thanks for the honor conferred. He could make no additional promises, but he would pledge himself to discharge the duties of the position to the best of his ability.

ORDER OF THE MEETING.

Mr. R. P. Chamberlain offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That hereafter the meetings of the Chamber of Commerce be changed from the first Tuesday night in each month to the Tuesday of each week, at 10 o'clock in the morning.

Mr. John Stephens moved to divide the resolution.

Mr. David Mayer moved to amend by making the meeting semi-monthly, instead of monthly, which motion prevailed.

Mr. David Mayer moved that the meetings be held on the second and fourth Tuesday nights of each month at 8 o'clock in the morning, which motion did not prevail.

The motion of Mr. D. Mayer then prevailed.

THE ATLANTA AND RICHMOND AIR-LINE RAILWAY.

Dr. S. C. Wyley reported that the Air-Line Railroad is about to commence construction at once, and that the people of Elberton have guaranteed that the depot for that place will be completed by the 1st of October next. He also reported that the people of Elberton had subscribed $40,000 to the road, and that they could to forward this enterprise, to signalize the occasion by offering such a celebration as is due to its importance. Colonel Gilmer, who has given this road, their capital and their talents to its accomplishment,

Resolved, That a committee of five be appointed by this Chamber to co-operate with such other committees as may be appointed by the citizens generally and the Mayor and Council, to make the proper arrangements and appoint the day for the celebration.

On motion, President Crane was made Chairman of the Committee.

Amos Fox, W. J. Garrett, A. Murphy, G. W. Adair.

Dr. Hutchcock, who offered the resolution asked to be excused from serving on the committee.

The next meeting will be held on Tuesday night next, unless the President will announce the new standing committees and the old standing committees will make their annual report.

On motion the Chamber adjourned.

CLAYTON COUNTY FAIR.

Governor Smith to Speak on Friday.

The Directors of Clayton county have invited Governor Smith to attend the fair at Jonesboro and deliver an address.

The Governor has accepted the invitation, and, Deo Volente, will address them next Friday.

THE ATHENS COMMENCEMENT.

The University of Georgia—Seventy-Second Annual Session—Commencement Sabbath—Bishop Beckwith—Chancellor Lipscomb—The Promise of a Brilliant Commencement.

A large crowd began to assemble quite early to day—many expecting to hear Bishop Beckwith. We too came to Athens looking forward to a rare treat in his sermon. But a recent illness, together with a serious throat affection, kept him from the stage. In his absence delivered an able discourse on those words "Fear God." He gave some running notes which will give you a conception of the framework resting on the text: Every man is conscious of a power outside of himself. He may not call this power God, but he trembles before its sublime mysteriousness. So that down in his heart he cannot say like the fool: "There is no God." Man is not self-existent; hence created. This the simple logic of his situation. He finds himself the centre of a system of laws. The question is driven to his inner bosom, who made those laws? They were co-existent with man; hence he did not make them. Lock God out of the universe and you cannot answer the question.

The idea of a God is not born in Philosophy, or Science, or Learning. The Indian sees a Great Spirit beneath the swolen stream, back of the fire, and beyond the stars. All that we see points to design. A wayfaring man, though a fool, may read. There is a Deity in everything. His attributes are reflected on the world. They point to His Holiness. Are we holy? Are we just? Do we flatter ourselves that God cannot see us? Do we conceive that His orderings might be better? We erect a shrine to Mammon or we worship Intellect; but ever and anon the awful question rises to perplex us: "Son of man, where art thou?"

All this the fruitage of the curse. The voices of the ocean after a storm are the wails of our first parents. Nature caught them up and has prolonged them. They shall form the chorus of the Forever Lost! But the cross has risen between us and the curse. It shuts us all within the domain of Mercy. Whatever we are the Father will return us to His love. Grace has established these relations. Gold is that heart which will not grasp them. Duty to the All-Wise will steer us safely. God have mercy upon the man who has not a sense of duty.

BACCALAUREATE ADDRESS.

The Chancellor was never more happy in a practical talk to the Seniors. Taking up the "Sense of Duty," upon which stress was laid in the previous discourse, he showed why the emphasis was placed there. Upon it rests the living, moving, breathing emphasis of life. As seen in the life and ministry of our Lord, it offers everything worth an endeavor. The point was then discussed: conscience as a mandatory power, and therein different from imagination and sensibility. Then the connexion of the sense of duty with common sense or prudence on the one hand, and with sentiment on the other. Stress was laid on the fact that many failed in their sense of duty because prudence was neglected, and others failed because duty was not expanded into a sentiment. Let common sense be the basis of religious character, and place on this religious sentiment. Do learn common sense. It is the great spiral column of character. We have to learn it. It is the last product of perfected experience.

The test of education is practical human life. The true scholar appears not in the intellect, but in the man. The great power resides in the union of intellect and morality. Every scientific man who has the spirit of Christ in him is repeating daily the miracle. Now if this high and holy sense of duty supported on the one side by prudence and on the other by sentiment, were embodied in daily conduct, then character would be complete—its contour perfect.

Then followed some parting words to the class. Here the Dr. spoke right out of his heart. Those boys will not forget what he said. In the coming years, each one of them will live over again his college life, and as he does, he will make a grateful return to the venerable instructor, friend and father, to whom the Alumni of twelve years owe so much. In that time, what boy that has been here has not taken away the impress of this great mind? Yes, kind, noble Dr. Lipscomb, the future has it in thanks for our labors. You have been talking to the future men of Georgia, and these future men, not there boys, will rise up and bless you; and in their hearts they will rear a monument to your memory which shall outlive brass and marble.

Y. M. C. A.

The Sermon to this Association was preached by Dr. Dixon, of Augusta. It was a genuine Gospel effort, and at the same time a learned discourse. We have not space left for a full synopsis. We are sorry to learn that the number of members of the Young Men's Christian Association is not so large this year as usual. This body could be made a power at the University.

Everything promises the most brilliant commencement of years. To-morrow morning the Sophs speak. To-morrow afternoon Mr. Stephens addresses the Societies. You will find enclosed the commencement Hymn, written by the Chancellor. They have the ring of genuine poetry and the spirit of heart-felt praise. O.

MONDAY, August 5, 1873.

No. 8, Blue Ridge Circuit.—John D Field, per administrator, vs. Wm P Price was argued. Wier Boyd, Esq, for plaintiff in error; H P Bell, Esq, for defendant in error.

No. 9, Blue Ridge Circuit.—James M Ridgeway vs Hamlin & Barnum, complaint, from Milton, was dismissed for want of service of the 11th of exceptions. W T Winn, Esq, for plaintiff in error; H P Bell, Esq contra.

Pending argument of No. 1 Western Circuit—T J Stallings, executor, vs. Wilkins B. Frey, administrator—the Court adjourned till 10 o'clock A. M. to-morrow.

The Other Tribunals.

The other Courts were all very quiet during the day and furnished nothing of interest wherewith to enliven this column.

Judge Pittman, our efficient Ordinary, did hold a session of his Court yesterday for county purposes. The time was spent in auditing bills against the county, but no other business was transacted.

Station House Report.

The police made four city and one State arrest, yesterday. The city cases were all picked up and provided with free lodgings for getting drunk and using Billingsgate.

The State arrest was of Perry Williams, colored. Perry failed to meet with his usual success, yesterday. He was caught in the very act, and marched off to an investigation of the matter. He will be

The Constitution's Fleet Reporter in Requisition.

As ten minutes to two o'clock on Monday night the magnificent engine, the Asbury Hull, that has been hired by THE CONSTITUTION to carry its mail to its readers on the Macon and Western Railroad and Southwestern Road, left Atlanta under charge of that excellent engineer, Wm. Mitchell, and with Colonel E. Y. Clarke as conductor and Mr. J. B. Lively as mail agent. Mr. George Shiel acted as assistant, and lost his hat.

QUIETLY AWAY.

Like all practical movements, the start went off with very little bullabaloo. Large bundles of papers were disposed of in the tender, in convenient sacks.

The splendid engine went equally, making the night resonant with her clatter, and illuminating the darkness with her brilliant headlight.

Nothing of interest occurred during the dark hours, until morning. At every point expectant agents were ready to receive the bundles of THE CONSTITUTION, and great satisfaction was expressed.

FORSYTH.

At Forsyth a good daylight revealed the fact that quite a large crowd was gathered to greet THE CONSTITUTION and congratulate its managers on the effort to give its readers the paper. These kind friends crowded around the engine and poured in their congratulations. Copies of THE CONSTITUTION were distributed free to those who were not subscribers. Two bottles of champagne were thrown into the engine for discussion.

AT MACON.

The engine reached Macon at thirteen minutes after seven o'clock, and there a considerable crowd was gathered. A plentiful squad of bright, quick-motioned newsboys were on hand to spread over the city and sell THE CONSTITUTION for 15 cents a copy.

It will be remembered that during the commencement of the Wesleyan Female College, the enterprise of placing the morning CONSTITUTION on sale in Macon was successfully inaugurated, and large numbers were eagerly bought up.

The hour at which the train leaves allows the very latest dispatches as well as the freshest Atlanta local news to be put in the Macon edition. Our Macon readers therefore get the cream of our paper at breakfast.

At nine minutes after ten the engine started on her return trip. At all points along the road our friends were out to welcome us.

GRIFFIN.

As usual, Griffin displayed a characteristic hospitality, and had a dinner ready for the returning newspaper railroaders. Among those who were on hand with a welcome were Mr. C. H. C. Willingham, Mr. Pitt M. Brown, and others with whom our returning reporter was not acquainted. Mr. W. B. Fitch sent the dispatch to Barnesville, extending the invitation to dinner.

The engine arrived on regular schedule time at Atlanta, a quarter before six.

UNIVERSITY OF GEORGIA.

Sophomore Declamation—Mr. A. H. Stephens Makes a Great Speech—Prayer by Dr. Skinner.

Georgians our judges,
Nature for our guide,
Still may we please,
Long may you preside.

H. C. Dickinson, Albany, Ga.—Antony's oration over Cæsar. Spoke distinctly and deliberately. We never heard this piece of rhetoric better rendered.

H. H. Gordon, Atlanta, Ga., son of General John B. Gordon—Parthenius and the Captive. Speak well? Indeed he did. Did you notice General Gordon's expression? He may well be proud of that boy. The action was admirable. We forgot N. P. Willis in looking at him.

J. T. Graves, Albany, Georgia—Irish Aliens. One of the brightest boys we ever saw. No speaker delivered his oration with more force and gravity. We would give him a medal.

J. J. Hill, Washington, Georgia—Destruction of Pompeii. This crowd is becoming so garrulous that we cannot hear the young men even from a near position.

W. S. Johnson, Jones county—Phillipe on the Policy of England. Ah! he has an ease and naturalness truly admirable; moreover he has thrown himself into the spirit of his speech.

J. W. Lester, Marietta, Georgia—Hayne's reply to Webster. Tolerably good.

F. H. Milburn, Athens, Georgia, son of Dr. Milburn, "The Blind Man Eloquent"—extract from a speech of Hon. B. H. Hill; creditably done. Mr. Hill was not present.

J. T. Pou, Madison, Georgia—Milton's Satan and Death. It is very difficult to render Milton successfully.

F. M. Ridley, LaGrange, Georgia—Ruins of Time. He carried us back, and we listened attentively as he talked face to face with Hoary Time.

P. A. Stovall, Augusta, Georgia—Hon. A. H. Stephens on Centralization. Another good speech. We like to hear these young orators declaiming extracts from our own Southern statesmen.

W. W. Starge', Waynesboro, Georgia—Regulus to the Roman Senate.

T. P. Vincent, Athens, Georgia—Execution of Montrose.

T. C. Walton, Augusta, Georgia—Webster on the Trial of Knapp for Murder. "He spoke for himself."

L. Warren, Americus—Regulus to the Carthaginians. This was the last speech and it lacked a deal of being a mean effort. Most of the young gentlemen did credit to themselves. Groves, Gordon and Dickinson were certainly in the front rank. As a whole it was one of the best Sophomore Exhibitions we have attended.

The Brass Band of Athens has improved wonderfully. George Davis has worked it up to very satisfactory blowing.

MR. STEPHENS.

At 5 o'clock a larger crowd than has yet been in the Chapel, assembled to hear Mr. Stephens. As he came hobbling in, supported by a crutch on one side and the arm of Colonel Mitchell on the other, every face become curious with this query: He able to make a speech? Well, they cushioned him up in a chair at one corner of the stage, with his side to the audience, and he sat and read a speech which was pronounced a "grand success!" His subject was taken from the letters of Junius. He announced that he wished to impress the principles of these letters on the young men before him. That was his object and his theme. He spent one hour in able argument to show that the world had never known who Junius was. At this time he demolished Lord Macauley's Hastings paper. Then for fifteen minutes he fed us with his matchless logic on the eternity of the simple principles of the CONSTITUTION.

We cannot believe that Mr. Stephens had finished his oration. He certainly intended to leave Mr. S after that introduction, and protract the discussion on the spot. But his feeble health would not permit this. Yet what he said, was given from the brain of an intellectual chief. He inspired every man with the sense of a mighty presence. Great enthusiasm followed the effort. The band struck out on Dixie. The women pressed forward to shake the hand of the Sage of Liberty Hall.

There were present to hear him, the aged Dr. Pierce, Gov. Jenkins, Gen. Tombs, Gov. Brown, Bishop Pierce, Bishop Beckwith, Gen. Gordon, and a number of other shining lights. Indeed it required only presence of Hon. B. H. Hill and H. V. Johnson to complete the constellation of Georgia's great luminaries.

The Demosthenean Society held its celebration at night. A heavy rain prevented many from attending. After a capital speech by Mr. Scott, on the "Philosophy of Success," Mr. Thornton delivered a medal from the Society to Mr. Henry Borrow of Athens, as the best debater. Mr. C. Z. McCord of Augusta, received the second medal. The Sophomore medal was presented to Mr. P. Stovall of Augusta, and the agricultural medal to Mr. Fred Pope of Washington.

THE BELLES

There are more beautiful ladies here now than we remember to have noticed at any previous commencement. Miss Mamie Lucas, the most popular lady in the State, Miss Louie Phinizy, and a host of others from Athens. Miss Julia Coles, Miss Addie Berner, and others from Augusta. Misses Scales, Sturges and Carter, of Waynesboro. Misses Alexander and Leyden, of Atlanta. Misses Lockett and Jackson, of Macon. Misses Willcox, Redd and Dozier, of Columbus.

THE SOIREE

given by the young men closed the programme of to day. We peeped in at Dupree's Hall, where an elegant company was grouped into a handsome picture by gaslight. Hearts were "beating happily." "Soft eyes looked love in eyes that spoke again." "No sleep till morn, when youth and pleasure meet to chase the fleeting hours with glowing feet."

LEXINGTON.

The Granges Spreading—Commencement Exercises Mason Academy—The Greensboro Brass Band.

LEXINGTON, August 24, 1873.

Editors Constitution: On Tuesday last there was organized two granges in this place and other granges in the county are contemplated soon. On Wednesday commenced the

EXAMINATION OF THE

Mason Academy, under the charge of Thomas E. Moss, A. M. The examination concluded Friday at noon, and showed great proficiency on the part of scholars and teachers, reflecting great credit on the attention to which the students have given their studies, and the ability and thoroughness of Mr. Moss and teachers.

Last night the reading of compositions and declamation of extracts took place.

THE FOLLOWING IS THE PROGRAMME.

Life's Mission—Miss Wortie M. Lester, Lexington.
Examinations—Miss Jessie M. Jennings, Lexington.
Necessity of Resistance—Oscar E Kinnebrew, Lexington.
The Clarion of War—W. A. Shackelford, Lexington.
Plea for Ireland—J. A. Haire, Lexington
Fashion—Miss Ellen C. Moss, Lexington.
The Ocean of Life—Miss Blanche C. Hance, Lexington.
Christmas Eve—Moore—J. T. Lafton, Lexington.
Tribute to General Taylor—Graham—James W. Mitchell, Lexington.
Patriotism—Pinckney—E. H. Hawkins, Oglethorpe county.
The Occasion—Ingo—James S. Moss, Lexington.
The Old Mill—Miss Margaret C. Young, Oglethorpe county.
My Composition—Miss Mary E. Rowe, Lexington.
Criminality of Dueling—Nott—John Knox, Lexington.
Address to His Soldiers—Lamar—Eddie Bush, Oglethorpe county.
"The Quack"—W. H. Deadwyler, Lexington.
Pitting on Airs—Miss Emma T. Bell, Maxey's.
Is Life all a Dream?—Miss Blanche Jennings, Lexington.
Lone Star of Texas—John W. Hawkins, Oglethorpe county.
Specimen of Eloquence—William Knox, Lexington.
Loss of a National Character—Walter Maxwell, Oglethorpe county.
A Pleasant Afternoon Walk—Miss Lau a H. Moss, Lexington.
The Fear', though hid in ocean's depths, is still a precious stone—Miss Dora M. Hand, Lexington.
The Boys who Wore the Gray—E. H. Kinnebrew, Lexington.
On being found guilty of Treason—Robert H. Young, Oglethorpe county.
Justice to the Whole Country—L. J. Poullain, Augusta.

This closing part of the examination exercises was indeed all that the patrons of the Academy could have desired, and where all did so well it would be unfair to make any discrimination.

The house was crowded, and splendid music by the Greensboro Brass Band added everything that was necessary to complete the annual exhibition of Mason Academy.

SPOT.

MR. CHARLIE PLATT.—We were pleased to learn that this gentleman returned to Atlanta yesterday, and has paid off all of his liabilities at this place to the last cent. He went home simply to make the proper arrangements for discharging this indebtedness, and his many friends have never believed that he had any other object in view. We are informed that he has formed a satisfactory business connection in New York, where he will go in a few days. He has our best wishes for his future prosperity.

MOZART.—The meeting of the Mozart Club last night was largely attended and a brilliant success. The programme was superb. The celebrated flutist and author of "Tiger Lillies"—Mr. Sidney Lanier, of Macon—was present and charmed the club with very little bullabaloo. Large bundles of papers were disposed of in the tender, in convenient sacks.

The splendid engine went equally, making the night resonant with her clatter, and illuminating the darkness with her brilliant headlight.

Nothing of interest occurred during the dark hours, until morning. At every point expectant agents were ready to receive the bundles of THE CONSTITUTION, and great satisfaction was expressed.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE UNITED States—Northern District of Georgia.—In the matter of Johnson F. Cunningham—In Bankruptcy.

This is to give

The Ladies of the Treasury.

No one who has lived in Washington but knows that a majority of the female clerks comes from the best families of the country. It was in the Treasury that Governor Fairchild, of Wisconsin, found his wife, and another was the beautiful daughter of a distinguished public man. The present United States District Attorney for South Carolina, some one won the beautiful Miss Ingersoll (orange father once occupied the high position of Attorney-General of Massachusetts) from the office of the Comptroller of Currency. And so might go on for pages telling who is married who has been there.

Robert J. Walker, once Governor of Mississippi, Secretary of the Treasury, and retained as an able lawyer in all prominent cases, now has a fair young daughter, who has recently become an orphan, and is earning her own support in the Internal Revenue. Mrs. Mary Johnson, daughter of Colonel Albert, who, for a long series of years, was head of the Topographical Bureau, has for ten years been a clerk in the Treasury. Her husband was General Fitzhugh, who died there a short time before the war. Not long after her father died, and as she had two sons to rear and educate, she laid aside all pride and became a Government clerk, or to be precise, a female employee, for the civil service masters say, inasmuch as women are not clerks, they cannot compete for the $1,200, $1,400, or any but $900 positions. There is chivalry, justice, and all the high-flown sentiments of man to woman expressed! Mrs. Johnson's boys are growing up to be worthy young men, and the oldest is about entering the naval school at Annapolis. Mrs. Tilton, sister of General Robert Ould, is a clerk in the Internal Revenue. The widow of Captain Ringgold is there.

The widow of Major Heap is a clerk. There are many illustrious names to be found in all the departments. The life these ladies live is hard enough at the best, without the tongue of detraction adding to their trials. One thing, they are constantly suing by the injustice done them in the difference of pay between them and the men, while they are held to even a more rigid accountability. There is a constant attempt to defraud them of their salaries for any absence, while men can frequently be called away.

The Gentle Sex in Baltimore--Cowhiding a Clerk.

Baltimore American.]

About eleven o'clock on last Monday morning, a quiet-looking, middle-aged woman named Mrs. Kramer, who was accompanied by her husband, entered the well-known stationery store of Guggenheimer & Weil, No. 157 West Baltimore street, and Mrs. Kramer inquired for a clerk employed there named William Randall. That personage was called, and comicg forward spoke to Mrs. Kramer and offered to shake hands with her. She did not shake hands with him, but on the contrary she pulled out a very serviceable cowhide, and, making a dart at the unfortunate Randall, caught his collar and went vigorously at work, while her husband stood by smiling, and seemingly enjoying the whole affair. Randall struggled and writhed under the shower of blows for some time without uttering a word, but the woman soon made it so warm for him that he was compelled to roar for help. No person, however, interfered, and things were going on swimmingly, when Randall succeeded in tearing himself from his tormentor's grasp and rushed rapidly out of the store, leaving Mrs. Kramer the mistress of the field. She was not disposed to make any explanations, but quietly taking her husband's arm she walked away, passing quite a crowd of people that had been attracted by the novelty of the scene. As she walked down Baltimore street she carried the cowhide firmly in her right hand, and every few steps she would switch it against her dress as if she longed for other worlds to conquer. Mrs. Kramer is an employee of Turnbull & Brothers, No. 8 South Charles street, and lives on Scott street. The cowhiding was inflicted in consequence of an insult that Randall had offered his daughter.

☞ The San Francisco Bulletin says: The towns on the shores of Puget Sound have been bidding high for the terminus of the Northern Pacific Railroad. It has finally been located in the little village of Tacoma, at the head of Commencement Bay, about thirty-four miles northeast of Olympia. The company first secured 2,000 acres of land along the shore of the town site, and then accepted the subsidies which the town offered. The site for a city is said to be a good one in the matter of soil, drainage, and a deep and land-locked harbor. The terminus of the Canada Pacific, we believe, has been fixed at Esquimalt, near the city of Victoria.

☞ The Commissioner of Education left here this evening for New York, from which port he sails for Europe to-morrow. The Commissioner will investigate the educational system of Europe, under the auspices of the Department of the Interior, and carried with him credentials which will enable him to confer with the ministers of public instruction of the countries mentioned in his instructions. The object of the investigations is mainly to enlarge the operations of our own Government in some directions, by adapting to our own purposes when practicable the experience of other nations. The Commissioner will be absent two months.

Cure for Caterpillars.--The Savannah News gives an interesting account of experiments with caterpillars on cotton, the ingredients used being Paris Green and common flour. The following recipe is said to be a "dead shot" for caterpillars, per acre:

Paris Green--1 pound.
Flour 24 pounds.

Mix well and dust lightly over the plants, using a bag or hair sifter.

DR. TUTT'S
VEGETABLE
LIVER PILLS

The startling drawback on nearly all medicinal agents has ever been that in their process of purgation and purification they have also debilitated the system. To obviate this difficulty physicians have long sought for the agent that would

PURGE, PURIFY AND STRENGTHEN
At one and the same time.

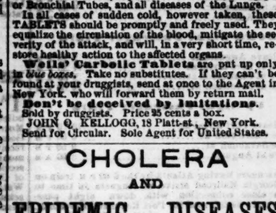
Their research has at last been rewarded by a discovery which full realizes the fondest desires of the medical faculty, and which is justly regarded as the most important triumph that Pharmacy has ever achieved The important desideratum is

Dr. Tutt's Vegetable Liver Pill.

Which purify the blood and remove all corrupt humors and unhealthy accumulations from the body, and yet produces no weakness or lassitude whatever, but on the contrary tones the stomach, and invigorates the body during the progress of their operation. They unite the heretofore irreconcilable qualities of a STRENGTHENING PUGATIVE and PURIFYING TONIC.

Dr. Tutt's Pills are the most active and searching medicine in existence. They at once attack the very root of disease, and their action is so prompt that in an hour or two after they are taken the patient is aware of their good effects. They may be taken at any time without restraint of diet or occupation; they produce neither nausea, griping or debility, and as a family medicine they have no rival

Price 25 cents a box. Sold by all Druggists.
Principal office, 18 and 20 Platt St., New York.



Is the Most Powerful Cleanser, strengthener and remover of Glandular Obstructions known to Materia Medica.

It is specially adapted to constitutions "worn down" and debilitated by the warm weather of Spring and Summer, when the blood is not in active circulation, consequently gathering impurities from sluggishness and imperfect action of the secretive organs, and is manifested by Tumor, Eruptions, Blotches, Boils, Pustules, Scrofula, etc., etc.

When weary and languid from overwork and dullness, or rainy days when inertia takes the place of energy and vigor, the system needs a Tonic to build it up and help the Vital Forces to regain their recuperative power.

In the heat of Summer, frequently the Liver and Spleen do not properly perform their functions; the Uterine and Urinary Organs are inactive, producing weakness of the stomach and intestines and a predisposition to bilious derangement.

DR. WELLS'
EXTRACT OF JURRUBEBA

Is prepared directly from the SOUTH AMERICAN PLANT, and is peculiarly suited to all these difficulties: it will cleanse the VITIATED BLOOD, strengthen the LIFE-GIVING POWERS, and REMOVE ALL OBSTRUCTIONS from IMPAIRED AND ENFEEBLED organs.

It should be freely taken, as Jurubeba is pronounced by medical writers the most efficient PURIFIER, TONIC and RESTORATIVE known in the whole range of medicinal plants.

BRILLIANT SUCCESS!

THE NASHVILLE
REPUBLICAN BANNER.

THE OLDEST ESTABLISHED
NEWSPAPER IN TENNESSEE.

If YOU WISH TO SUBSCRIBE TO A FIRST-class daily, tri-weekly or weekly family newspaper, take the Nashville Republican Banner, issued from the Capital and commercial center of Tennessee--the oldest established paper in Tennessee, enjoying the largest circulation, and conceded to be the best newspaper, in all respects, published South of the Ohio. It has acquired distinction with the public and among its contemporaries, for its enterprise in securing the freshest news and the concise and convenient manner of presenting it; for its accuracy as a market reporter; for the progressive spirit and conservative tone of its political teachings; for being a live, independent and sincere political journal, thoroughly identified with the political and material interest of its State and section. It gives 10,000 words of telegraph, from all parts of the world daily--the best market report, the freshest local news--and its originality is its distinctive specialty.

The Banner will strive to keep pace with the progress of the times and to be an accurate and life-like exponent of all occurring around us. It will note all affairs of National, State or local interest, and all the interesting events occurring in the country at large and abroad. It will contain full reports of the next Tennessee General Assembly and proceedings of the next Congress, which everybody will wish to see. As a vehicle for the transmission of news and intelligence on every subject, it will commend itself to readers of all shades of political faith. Its editorial corps is large and composed of writers who have made journalism a profession, their particular department a specialty, and who bring to their labors the earnestness which results from its being their life-long calling. Neither labor nor expense will be spared to obtain the latest intelligence, whether local, domestic or foreign, and a liberal use of the telegraph will enable each issue to be a compact and comprehensive history of the "world's doings." As a newspaper it will be surpassed by none in life and enterprise. In tone and sympathies and aims, it will be as conservative as from the beginning of its career. We shall go on as we have begun, and we hope the public, as far as the mails that communicate with us are concerned, will go on as it has begun. The Banner for the coming twelve months will be an improvement on the last. We design it for the best newspaper within reach of its circle of patrons and leave the issue to their kind opinion.

THE TRI-WEEKLY BANNER

will contain the cream of the news of the Daily with its telegraphic dispatches and market reports.

THE WEEKLY BANNER,

a complete compendium of the news of the Daily and Tri-Weekly issues, will be a first-class family Literary journal--an instructive and entertaining weekly visitor to the Family Circle.

The several editions of the Republican Banner are issued from the office at the following terms of subscription:
